

Applicant hereby restates the Abstract of the Disclosure as follows:

A support structure for a flowing-water drivable turbine system having a pair of generally horizontal decks of streamlined cross-section and at least one turbine assembly mounted thereon for operational co-operation with a flow of water in which the decks and turbine assembly is submerged.